But, in truth, that's not always possible, as you can usually only filter out spam emails that look like they are from known sources. What this means in practice is that spammers often have some way of masking their email address and sending you legitimate-looking messages. And if you have a rule-based firewall, one of the first things that will catch your eye is all the emails from unknown sources that it will mark as spam. To deal with this, you need something with real-time filtering – something that's proactive, and not something that comes with a handful of static filters. If you're looking for the most sophisticated real-time spam filter solution, then look no further than the SpamTitan Spam Filter, which will effectively stop spam-sending sites from working. A complete spamfilter that's suitable for all email types While SpamTitan might be a formidable tool in the firewall that you've built, it doesn't just operate using one type of spam filtering – instead, it uses a hybrid approach, incorporating multiple forms of technology. And, as it is based on a cloud-based spam filtering infrastructure, there's little downtime for your system. This has two main benefits: firstly, you get quick access to real-time filtering of your spam emails. And, secondly, you get a spam-proof firewall that doesn't need to be updated. With SpamTitan, you don't have to worry about the updates. It does all the work on the cloud, and comes with a tool that allows you to check the status of your filters. It's easy to set up If you're a novice at spamfiltering, you should know that you don't have to be a professional to get SpamTitan set up. It's designed to be easy to use, and it even comes with a number of tutorials that should help you get started straight away.
