Copy. When you choose the Create a Copy option, the pixels that are common to both documents are saved and both documents are updated, so the two documents are identical in both feature and contents. want to add to the photo that you just created.

Q: Twilio: cancel outgoing call before redirecting to a webhook When connecting to a phone number using a Twilio Client, I want to be able to stop the call (also "cancel" in the conference call sense) before redirecting the call to a specific URL. During the Google Chrome Developer Tools I find that the call is marked with status code 302 Moved Temporarily. How can I stop the call (even forcefully, not just answering a "Did you hear me, abort?")? Is it a feature that's in the Simulator only or is it also in the public Phone number dashboard? A: Twilio developer evangelist here. When you cancel an outgoing call the client will keep the actual call up for as long as you cancel it, which can be up to an hour. As such, to achieve what you are asking for you will need to end the call and then wait until you are redirected away. The behaviour you see in the browser dev tools is generated by a webhook that we send to you when the call is successfully completed (or when the call is ended). We are currently working on a fix for this. I hope this helps you. The selective ERK1/2 modulator parthenolide activates BDNF-TrkB signaling in astrocytes and promotes neurogenesis and cognitive function after transient cerebral ischemia in rats. Current treatment strategies for stroke are mainly focused on neuroprotection and neuron replacement. Astrocytes are important sources of neurotrophic factors in the brain and can secrete a variety of neurotrophic factors such as brain-derived neurotrophic factor (BDNF). The BDNF-TrkB pathway has been linked to neuronal survival and the differentiation of neuronal cells. It has been demonstrated that parthenolide (PTL) is protective in ischemic brain models and that PTL rescues stroke-damaged neurons. In this study, the role of the BDNF-TrkB pathway in the neuroprotective effect of PTL in ischemic stroke was examined. Rats received vehicle or PTL i.p. treatment at 1 and 6 h after transient cerebral ischemia. The ischemia-induced neurodegeneration in the cerebral cortex and ipsilateral CA1 region of the hippocampus was analyzed using hematoxylin and eosin staining. PT treatment significantly reduced the ischemia-induced neuronal death
