What's new in Revenants: Spirit Amp; Mind:

of the West Revenants: Spirit & Mind of the West is a collectible card game (CCG) by the strategy game developer Versus Evil. It was first released in October 2011. Players compete against each other in a quest to build the most powerful multiplayer community possible. Revenants is a series of games described by the company as "Pathfinder meets World of Warcraft." It is considered the first collectible trading card game online that is compatible with tabletop cards. Revenants is official to play on the online website VersusEvil.com along with other games. It is also available for PlayStation 3, Xbox 360, and PC. It is possible for players to play solo or with a group of friends as well in LAN, through Xbox Live or PlayStation Network. Revenants allows for trade of cards with other players or players could trade cards with other players online or locally through Xbox Live or PlayStation Network. The players can be of any age and there are no purchase or time restrictions when trading with other players. Gameplay Revenants: Spirit & Mind of the West, is a playable online free-to-play (F2P) and PC game. Versus Evil refers to Revenants as a collectible card game, also known as "CCG" and this game is no longer updated. Players play cards to defeat their opponents and finally win at trial games. Revenants are individual cards that protect players and their card groups. The concepts of playing, paying, winning, losing, and power ranking all occur by card group instead of a specific player. VersusEvil.com includes a section for cards that players can trade in the game or use in battles. These cards include recurring characters, monsters, and items. Revenants are used for battle to destroy an opposing player's cards and increase the ownership of the destroyed cards to the player. Several cards are the "ultimate" cards that are a combination of materials and others. These cards are defined by a level, which is different level armor for characters and weapons for items. Some cards have multiple material attributes like weapons that can have iron or wood. Some cards are more used in card groups. These cards are defined using "color based cards" which are different colors like blue, white, and red. To compete in the game, players need to complete a training set that teaches them how to play in the game. These training cards let a player know what card actions are
